HAPPY THANKSGIVING

Remember Veterans' Day

by Charles Dubbs

I have never seen Harry Cole, chairman of the Veterans' Day Program, so excited. Visit with Harry for a few minutes concerning this year's observance, and you will become excited too! The Veterans' Day Program will be held on Monday, November 12, 2012, at 8:00 AM at Farnsworth Hall. Normally, the program is held on November 11, but that is Sunday so it will be celebrated on Monday.

A ceremony of the posting of the military flags which include the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines, Coast Guard and Seabees will be conducted.

The special speaker is Colonel (retired) John S. Brower. Colonel Brower entered the Air Force through Officer Training School in July of 1973 and subsequently became a navigator in C-141 transport aircraft, rising through the ranks.

In 1997 Colonel Brower was selected to occupy the Air Mobility Chair at Air University and serve as a Professor of Joint Warfare at the Air War College. In his final year at the University, Colonel Brower was selected as the recipient of the Wright Award, as the outstanding instructor at the War College and asked to be personal representative of the Air University Commander to the Headquarter Air Education and Training command. He subsequently served in this role for two years, retiring in July 2002 after 29 years of service. Colonel Brower will speak concerning the changes in the Military Services over the years.

Doug Reynolds, the Dakota Kid, along with the audience will perform God Bless the USA.

There will be special music by Peggy Peppers as well as a time for coffee, donuts and visiting following the time of Remembrance. Come and celebrate our veterans.

Rural Metro Will Present Safety Program

by Jackie Young

On Wednesday, November 14 at 2:00 PM, there will be a very important informational meeting being held at Farnsworth Hall presented by Rural

Metro. Jason McVey, paramedic/firefighter, will be discussing safety in the home, the importance of rescue and fire being able to access your home in case of emergency. There will also be a representative present for Knox Box; this company offers a secure option for access. There will be a sign up sheet for CPR and First Aid to be taught by Rural Metro.

The American Tradition

Reprinted from a Website

The celebration of Thanksgiving in America probably derived from the harvest-home ceremonies originally held in England. These were days reserved to thank God for plentiful crops and a bountiful harvest. Accordingly, this holiday still takes place late in the fall season after crops have been gathered. Most recently, Thanksgiving Day in the United States is usually a family affair, complete with sumptuous dinners and happy reunions; however, it is also traditionally a time for serious religious contemplation, church services, and prayer.

The first observance of Thanksgiving in America was entirely religious in nature and involved no form of feasting. On December 4, 1619, a group of 36 English settlers arrived at Berkeley Plantation on the group required that the day of arrival be observed as a day of Thanksgiving to God. The first Thanksgiving the Plymouth colonists had settled in America. Contrary to popular belief, however, Plymouth Rock was not the site of the original colony. When the Pilgrims landed there on December 11, 1620, in search of fresh provisions, they were greeted with hostility by the natives in the immediate vicinity and put back out to sea almost at once. A little further south, they came across Cape Cod, a much more favorable anchorage than Plymouth had proved to be and a native population which was more cordial in nature. Weary from their voyage and in no mood to hunt down the site mandated by their charter (which was considerably further down the coast and somewhere within the limits

James River...a location now known as Charles City, Virginia. The charter of the in the New England area was celebrated in 1621, a little less than a year after

Tap Dancing Anyone?

by Linda Roujon

The Dream Steppers, DVCC's tap dance group, are looking for some new members! We seriously need you since there are only five of us presently to dance together this year. Eight or ten members would be just wonderful!

We practice on Thursday mornings, at 9:30 AM in Farnsworth Hall. We will begin our practice on October 25 this year and will usually run from late October through February or March, performing in the variety show that takes place in March 2013 this year.

We have a good time together and tap dancing is wonderful exercise. We simply ask that you bring a smile and know a few rudimentary tap steps such as shuffle, flap and ball change. Some of us only started with the knowledge that we learned as children and that is just fine. We do look forward to meeting you!

If interested, please call Linda Roujon at 480-985-6473.

President's Message

by Jerald "Red" Westall

We have returned from drought-ridden South Dakota to the beautiful lush green desert of Arizona.

What a difference a year makes.

As a whole, things look pretty good around Dreamland Villa. Our biggest problem with weeds is due to bank owned homes. However, if your elderly neighbor needs some help, please pay it forward and help a bit. The housing market has increased in value, and they certainly are moving in. Make Dreamland a positive Villa and welcome your new neighbors.

Join your friends and neighbors at either pickleball or any of our outdoor activities or swimming at the pool. Come and visit the lapidary, ceramics, computer club, art rooms, and wood shop. Consider joining the newly formed Photography Club. (See article in this issue of the paper.) We have so many activities with which each of us can become involved. Remember this is your community!

As of this writing I am in need of individuals to be on the election committee. Please, folks, step forward and give this Board some help. We need YOU! I would certainly appreciate some calls from volunteers.

We hold coffee socials on the 2nd and 4th Saturdays at 7:30 AM at Read Hall. Then on the 3rd Thursday of each month we have a potluck at 6:00 PM at Farnsworth Hall. Judy Ford, Board member, has scheduled all of the entertainment for this winter season. Please go to the office and sign up to work at some of the programs. Read your Citizen, visit the website, www.dreamlandvilla.org, or check your calendar of events. It can keep you very busy, and you meet some of the best people in the East Valley.

It's great to be back. Thank you!

Where did September go? We did have some really bad dust storms and then the rains, especially the one that came from all directions and that riddled my flag, but the rest were welcome. Rains are a rarity here in Arizona, so much so, that some times we feel like getting right out in them, turning our faces right up to them, like when we were children; though we usually scurry right from our cars to our houses, or stores or wherever we are headed for, afraid to take time to be thankful for them and really enjoy them.

We need more able-bodied men to become volunteers. Maybe that means you, and if so, please let Pat Peloquin know at 807-0713 or come into the office and tell them. You are not requested to be here all the time. Pat will talk to you and choose the month and day that you would prefer to work, usually only two or three months a year.

You will be trained by one of the men, so you will be well informed as to what to do. You meet a lot of nice people that way. You would be assisting people to find what they need from the warehouse and also assist the ones that are bringing things back.

If you are donating anything, please be sure that the equipment is all there and pretty clean. If not, then we will have to find a way to dispose of it. We still have the Hoveround Power Chair which can be had for a moderate donation.

We had donations for memorials for Virginia Kiplinger and Louis Fodroczi this month.

For those not familiar with what we have in our warehouse for you to use, you should come in and take a look. We have wheelchairs, crutches, even the knee-walker, commodes, toilet risers, bathtub transfer benches, rollaway beds, and even baby beds and high chairs, playpens and even a few pull toys. We have hospital beds (not electric) that there is a charge for delivering and setting up, which you must set up a time for delivery.

Every Monday morning the nurses and ladies are here to take your blood pressure and keep a record for you. This helps between doctor calls.

Do keep healthy and happy.

News From the Librarian's Desk

by Margie Gilbert

Greetings to all of you from the staff at Dreamland Villa Library. To those of you who were gone for the summer, welcome back. For those of you who spent the summer, or most of it here, Bravo! As usual, it felt long and hot, and we are glad it is over. If you took books with you on your travels, be sure and return the ones with our cardholder in the front. We are back to our three-week check out time.

Winter hours are now in effect at the library. We are open Mondays from 10:00AM until noon, Wednesdays from 10:00 AM until noon and from 1:00 PM until 3:00 PM and Fridays from 10:00 AM until noon. We are also open from 10:00 AM until noon the first and third Saturday of each month.

For those of you who are wondering about our annual book sale, wonder no longer. It will be held in February. If you want to buy books before then, please stop by the library. Due to many generous donations, we have a library full of books and many in our front room up for sale. Come by and see what we have. There are lots of mystery, fiction, romance and some westerns for sale. There are also puzzles, magazines, videos and a few audio books for sale as well. At $.25 for a paperback or $1.00 for a hardback, that is a good deal. It is easy to take a handful with when you travel and when you're done reading, a lot of RV parks and motels have paperback exchanges where you may trade them for other books.

If you are looking for a particular book not on our shelves, there is a book request sheet just inside the front door near the sign in sheet. We can also check our computer listing to see if we have a book you want to read and help you find it. Also, please remember to sign in when you visit us. We report numbers every month, and it is helpful to have an accurate account of how many people use our facility.

As you cozy up in your recliner or sip your coffee or tea on the patio this fall, here are a few of our newer titles you may enjoy reading. From Debbie Macomber, I left my heart; Luanne Rice, Letters; Gillian Flynn, Gone Girl, Danielle Steel, Friends Forever. Newly purchased suspense/mystery books include: Patricia Cornwell's Red Mist, David Baldacci's Zero Day, Dean Koontz's 77 Shadow Street, Stephen King's 11/22/63, James Patterson's 11th Hour, and Tess Gerritson's Last to Die.

We do have a few check out rules: Remember, only one newly purchased book at a time, and you may not renew it. Also, during the summer months you may take as many books as you want, but during the winter months, please limit yourself to 10 books at a time. We have many loyal patrons, and we need to have the books available for all to use. Our checkout period is for three weeks, but of course you may come in as often as you wish and visit us. See you soon!

Fish Fry Is Back!

by Charles Dubbs

John's Villa is the place to be on Friday. The excellent "Fish Fry" is served up with a smile. Annette and Carly are waiting to greet, seat, and serve you. They begin serving fish at 11:00 AM and close at 2:00 PM. You won't find a better "Fish Fry" in the area. Baked potato or French fries with cole slaw will finish out your plate.

Barbara and Eddie, the owners of John's Villa, also have a wonderful breakfast menu. Biscuits and gravy, my favorite, and coffee that hits the spot! Take time and frequent John's Villa, a friendly place to meet others and not eat alone. And the price is right.

Citizen Book Review

V is for Vengeance by Sue Grafton

Kinsey Millhone, Sue Grafton's PI, shops the sales as we all do. An innocent trip to Nordstrom's for new undies finds her in the lingerie department, and that's where all Kinsey's trouble starts. When she witnesses an older woman put two pairs of silk pajamas and a silk teddy into her purse she alerts the sales clerk, Claudia, who she knows from her frequent visits to Rosie's, the neighborhood hangout.

Claudia in turn contacts Mr. Koslo, Nordstrom's loss prevention officer, and after talking to Kinsey, he pursues the older woman. Kinsey decides to track down the younger woman that she had seen with the shoplifter, and surprises her coming out of the women's restroom. When Kinsey finds a number of snipped off price tags in one of the stalls, she pursues the woman to the parking garage where she nearly gets killed in a hit and run.

A few days later, Kinsey sees the older woman's photo in the obituary column of the local newspaper. Then someone calls her and tells her the shoplifter, Audrey Vance, had committed suicide by jumping off a bridge. When she goes to Rosie's for supper, William who is Rosie's husband and brother of Kinsey's landlord, Henry, sees her paper. William is a hypochondriac who loves to show up at local funeral homes and commiserate with strangers. He convinces Kinsey to accompany him to Audrey's funeral the next day. William spends a lot of time at the funeral home chatting with Audrey's fiancé and introduces him to Kinsey.

Very shortly, Kinsey has been hired by Audrey's fiancé, Marvin Striker, to investigate her death. He doesn't believe she was a shoplifter, he doesn't believe she committed suicide, and he wants Kinsey to prove him right. Not only is Audrey a shoplifter, but she is a pro with special undergarments to load with her loot, and at least 5 arrests to her credit. Kinsey's investigations lead her to the remote rental house Audrey had rented and that was used only occasionally to sort and re-package stolen goods. Audrey's landlord innocently intercepts a package delivery and her curiosity gets the better of her and when she opens it, she finds bundles of cash. She calls Kinsey and they turn it over to the local sheriff's office.

By this time, Kinsey has become suspicious that local police have some connection to this ring, and that it in turn is run by a local mob connection "Dante." Dante's brother Capi is a hot head that Dante is trying to train to take over the "business." Dante wants out.

By the time the tale is done, Dante has left the country with a toothbrush, a suitcase full of cash and his new girlfriend, the unhappy wife of a Hollywood entertainment lawyer. Capi is dead, shot during a raid of the business by the bad cop who thinks he might retire and take over the "business." Some time later, Kinsey has a visit by Dante's secretary. She hands over a packet Dante has left for Kinsey, saying it is payment for pain and suffering. Along with a bundle of cash is a cassette tape recorded in Dante's office with enough information on it to bring down the bad cop.

I thoroughly enjoyed this book as I have all of Grafton's mysteries. It is sad that the end of the alphabet is near, but maybe the next batch will be numerical. Check it out.

DV

From My View

by Charles Dubbs

Fall is here and I understand that the colors are beautiful in the forested parts of Arizona. I imagine some of our winter residents enjoyed the fall colors as they traveled to Arizona. For those of us here in Dreamland, our main colors have been the various weeds growing in the yards. Of course, we all look forward to all properties being in compliance with the rules. Our yards make an "impression" either for good or bad when people drive through our community, especially if they are considering purchasing a new home.

Once again we must remind residents who have an alley behind their property, not to allow bushes, trees, or plants to grow into or over the alley. Recently the DVCC patrol car could not patrol the alley due to overhanging bushes. The alley must be kept clear for emergency vehicles.

All of our residents should be concerned about "roof" rats.

As you may have read in previous years, Scottsdale was the area infested; however, we now understand they have entered the Mesa area. The last report I knew of referenced the Val Vista area, yet recently we had a resident come in with fruit with suspicious bites. Let's not wait for a confirmation, but be pro-active and pick-up old fruit off the grounds and remove fruit from your trees when the season has ended. With everyone doing a little "yard keeping", perhaps we will not need to worry about an invasion of "roof" rats.

Have you notice the entertainment activities have begun with the "Legends of County Music", The Mood Swings" and our "Annual Sock Hop". Judy Ford is our Entertainment Chairperson, and is seeking volunteers who are willing to work in the Box Office, serve as Ushers or Parking Monitors to assist people parking. A sign up for each of the shows is in the office, so drop by and sign up. The Entertainment Brochures for the 2012-2013 seasons are in the office.

Summer projects included the retrofit of the buildings' lighting system which was completed over the summer months. The retrofit included both Farnsworth Hall and the Read Complex. The folks who play shuffleboard will be happy to find that some of the shuffleboard courts were resurfaced. Floors in a number of areas were stripped and waxed as part of the summer projects.

You read last month about Rural Metro sponsoring the Ice Cream Social and sharing Safety Tips. They will be making a return in November, check the calendar. If you are interested in purchasing a KNOX BOX for your home, come by the office as we have brochures and a price list.

Another word of caution concerning your homes, please have adequate outside lighting. When away use timers to turn lights on and off. Keep doors and windows locked. Make arrangements for someone to pick up old papers when you are traveling. Have someone keep up your yard for that lived in look. We have had a series of break-ins or attempts in October.

Many have inquired about the bankruptcy status. Dreamland Villa Community Club, Inc., is no longer in bankruptcy. We still have the 2004 lawsuit and 2010 lawsuits that have not been resolved as of this writing.

In and Around the Villa

by Mary Anne Glauner

November 6, 2012, is Election Day! Get out and vote!!! It is your civic duty, (if anyone knows what that means anymore) to vote for the people and issues that are on the ballot and are important to the stability of our Nation and hometown.

Congratulations and THANK YOU to all our Veterans. You put your life on the line for us every day from the time you either answered Uncle Sam's letter or enlisted, until you returned home to us at the end of your time of service. Many were not fortunate to return to their families and loved ones. Too often we take lives for granted and never think of the sacrifices made by our men and women of the military and unfortunately too many are still sacrificing today. Let us keep them all in our prayers this day and every day, not just Veterans Day!

We lost two people very special to DVCC last month. Gladys Kropnicki, a long-time resident of Dreamland, who was one of the silent members who loved living in our community and took pride in how special we are. She sold homes for Farnsworth and spread the worth of living here in every sales pitch. Another long-time resident was Jean Koelle. Jean was one of our art teachers in the DVCC Art Club and a member of the East Valley Artist Community. She loved teaching "collages" and acrylic pieces and sold many of her pieces at the Arts & Craft Shows. She also was a member of the DVCC Ladies Golf League.

It was announced last week that the Broadway Palm Theatre will be known as the Silver Stars Playhouse, a comedy club, opening November 29th. The first show will be 'Nutcracker, Men in Tights'. They will serve an "al a carte menu" of gourmet burgers, pizza, and wraps as well as deserts.

A new Long Horn Steakhouse is being constructed on the southeast corner of Fiesta Mall and Alma School. They hope to be open by the beginning of the year. They have a reputation for being a great steak house with a terrific menu.

Urban Picnic, located at 218 W. Main Street, is famous for their three cheese Mac 'n cheese as well as a full complement of sandwiches. Their turkey w/dressing is one of their most popular.

Anzio's Landing has moved to 2831 N. Power Road in the Village at Las Sendas. The owners were sorry to leave their old building on Higley Road but are hoping to get a larger clientele with their move. Their new menu will still be the high quality Italian food that they have become known for and hope everyone will find their new location even more acceptable.

The new Culvers on Greenfield is open and just waiting to serve you the "best frozen custard" in Mesa. If you aren't hungry for ice cream, try their butterburgers, or one of their dinner plates; you might be pleasantly surprised. Culvers is located in front of Hobby Lobby and the East side of Greenfield, just north of Baseline Road.

It's time to fertilize your citrus trees. If you don't know the proper kind of fertilizer, just stop in your local Ace, Home Depot, or Lowes, or any garden shop and they will be more than glad to help you. It is also time to trim your rose bushes and plant your annuals. Let's beautify DVCC!

A new consignment shop, which opened at the corner of Higley and University Roads, is called Sweet Repeats. They carry high-end ladies clothes and accessories in sizes 2-16. If you have clothes hanging in your closets that you have grown tired of and are clean, and stylish, you might want to stop in and talk to Connie Hooper, the owner. However, if you need some new clothes for the coming season, stop in and talk to Connie about filling up your closet with the latest and "in" wardrobe. Her hours are 9:00 AM - 5:00 PM Monday through Friday. She has a well-stocked store just waiting for you to come browsing and shopping.

Happy Thanksgiving to all our families, neighbors, and friends. We have so much to be thankful for but why we only take one day out of the year to express our thankfulness when we should be so grateful for every minute of every day that we are able to live where we live and be free to live our lives as we wish. May your stuffing be tasty, may your turkey be plump. May your potatoes 'n gravy have nary a lump. May your yams be delicious, may your pies take the prize. May your Thanksgiving dinner stay off of your thighs?

One Liner: I will never be over the hill. I'm too darn tired to climb it!

Someone sent me an email about using vodka for cleaning around the house. It worked! The more vodka I drank the cleaner the house looked!

Middle age: That time when you finally get your head together-then your body starts falling apart!

When a woman says "What?" it's not because she didn't hear you. She's giving you a chance to change what you said.

Why are there never any "GOOD" side-effects? Just once I'd like to read a medication bottle that says "May cause extreme sexiness".

OMG, I'm rich! Silver in the hair, Gold in the teeth, Crystals in the kidney, Sugar in the blood, Lead in the butt, Iron in the arteries, and an inexhaustible supply of natural gas! I never thought I would accumulate such wealth!

I kind of feel sorry for the trees in the fall...at least when I went through the change, nothing fell off!

Now this is my kinda guy: This is so true! They always ask at the doctor's office why you are there, and you have to answer in front of others what's wrong and sometimes it is embarrassing. There's nothing worse than a Doctor's Receptionist who insists you tell her what is wrong with you in a room full of other patients. I know most of us have experienced this, and I love the way this old guy handled it.

A 65-year-old man walked into a crowded waiting room and approached the desk. The receptionist said, "Yes sir, what are you seeing the doctor for today?" There's something wrong with my penis," he replied. The receptionist became irritated and said, "You shouldn't come into a crowded waiting room and say things like that." "Why not, you asked me what was wrong and I told you," he said. The receptionist replies, "Now you've caused some embarrassment in this room full of people. You should have said there is something wrong with your ear or something and discussed the problem further with the doctor in private." The man replies, "You shouldn't ask people questions in a roomful of strangers if the answer could embarrass anyone." The man walked out, waited several minutes, and then re-entered. The receptionist smiled smugly and asked, "Yes?" "There's something wrong with my ear," he stated. The receptionist nodded approvingly and smiled, knowing he had taken her advice.

"And what is wrong with your ear, sir?" "I can't piss out of it," he replied. The waiting room erupted in laughter.

Arizona Travel Day Trips “Off We Go into the Wild Blue Yonder

by Alicia Short; photos by Glynn Short

“Off we go into the wild blue yonder, flying high into the sun.” Entering the Arizona Commemorative Aviation Museum at Falcon Field on McKellups made me think of the words to the Air Force song. As Glynn and I started our tour of the museum, we were impressed with the friendliness of the volunteers who greeted us.

After paying our $10 each senior price for entry we walked into a large hanger filled with a variety of planes. The Red Baron – plane caught my eye right away. Brightly colorful and beautifully restored it was a beauty. Planes from before the World War II era through modern day planes are on display.

One of the tour guides was very informative and well-versed in his history and spoke about many of the planes. He introduced us to one of the owners, Billy Walker who owns the Stearman Model 75 Primary Trainer. He graciously let us take his photo by his plane. Many of the planes on display belong to private persons. The museum only owns six planes.

Most significantly on display is the B-17. According to the brochure: “B-17G Sentimental Journey entered service with the CAF in 1978. Arizona Wing members immediately undertook the chores of cleaning, polishing and repainting in WWII markings and honing the ship into excellent mechanical condition. They also initiated extensive crew training so that Sentimental Journey was prepared to fly with the CAF fleet. But even the aircraft’s excellent condition wasn’t good enough. Without four operational turrets, operational bomb bay doors, navigator and radio operator stations, Norden bomb sight and machine guns, Sentimental Journey was not an authentic Flying Fortress. Most people would have been content to continue the project bit by bit over several years but the Arizonans were eager to complete the restoration of all military systems used on the B-17’s during WW II.”

Falcon Field, where the museum is located, was once the #4 British Flying Training School during World War II. In fact, several memorabilia displays from Japanese, Nazi, German air forces were inside the hanger. A U.S. World War II uniform belonging to Arizona flyer, Forest “Doggie” Kline, was set up inside one display. From the looks of it he was a small man. Tribute is also paid to the Tuskegee airmen and the women’s air force, WASPS organization. I was particularly interested in knowing that, unknown to a lot, women served unrecognized during World War II including some who died in service.

The Stinson L5 E Sentinel or Flying Jeep was a plane used to fly wounded soldiers off the battlefield which had a mock soldier inside to show how it was used. It really was a small plane holding a pilot and barely enough room for the wounded soldier.

According to the website: “On January 14, 1978, at a membership banquet for the newly formed Arizona Wing of the Commemorative Air Force (CAF), Colonel Mike Clarke announced the donation of a B-17G aircraft to the CAF for assignment to the Arizona Wing. A contest was initiated by the local media to name the aircraft, which resulted in more than 800 entries, with the ultimate selection of the name Sentimental Journey. The decision was made to use the most famous pinup picture of World War II for the nose art. Permission was secured from widower Harry James to add Betty Grable in her most tantalizing pose to complete the newly acquired bomber.

In 1985 ground was broken for the wing’s first permanent hangar facility. With the new facility, repairs to Sentimental Journey could now be performed inside. The new hangar also started the annual fundraiser “A Night in the 40’s Big Band Dance” event and is held each March. Sentimental Journey is on display at the front of hangar for photo opportunities along with other Warbirds. Many of the dance attendees come dressed in the styles of the 40’s for the costume and dance contests. The annual dance draws over 1,400 guests.”

A number of events are held annually at the museum:
Dinner with the Legends - Friday, November 9th 5:30 - 8:30PM. Hosted at the Hilton Phoenix East Mesa Hotel (1011 W. Holmes Ave, Mesa), the AZCAF invites you to join us for Dinner with the Legends and your chance to sit and dine with these remarkable people.

Fifth Annual Gathering of Legends - Saturday, November 10th (all day) The “Fifth Annual Gathering of Legends,” is the largest gathering of military aviators in the southwestern United States. The event is designed to honor aviators who have participated in U.S. military conflicts during the past 69 years and serves as the museum’s Veterans Day celebration.

RAF Cadet Memorial - Sunday, November 11th at 10:30AM. On Sunday, November 11th the Commemorative

Air Force Arizona Wing will conduct a memorial service for 23 British Cadets who died during WW II while training at #4 British Flying Training School (today’s Falcon Field) in Mesa.

The International Plastic Modelers Society will hold their international gathering in the museum hangar in early November. The event will feature plastic models of aircraft, ships, missiles, spacecraft, figures, automobiles, etc. as well as a model contest. Vendors will offer plastic model kits and other modeling supplies.

Details on upcoming events and the museum can be found at www.azcaf.org. The museum is located on the corner of Greenfield and McKellips. Winter hours are from 9:00 AM – 4:00 PM. There is also a volunteer program should you be interested in helping out there.

In the maintenance hangar we were able to see volunteers working on planes and through the open door of the hanger we could see small aircraft landing at the field. A Bear Cat plane first made a low flying pass over the runway just to announce he was here...before coming in for a landing. What a sight. As a person who once longed to learn to fly, I was thrilled with the museum. It’s worth the flight in fantasy. See you next month somewhere in Arizona.

Summer is over and cooler weather is here. Hope you "500" players are ready for a "cool" night out at Read Hall on Friday nights. The schedule is posted on our board at the hall. Hope you Snowbirds had a wonderful summer and are back ready to join us. See you there at 7:00 PM.

Dreamland Villa
Men's Golf League

By Ray Zabel

All reading this article probably are tired of me touting how great the Dreamland Golf Course looks and plays. Some who have played the course for twenty years say they have never seen the course look and play so well. I wish it would give my game some great improvement, but with all the grass it feels very cool out on the course. Last, the price to play is very reasonable.

The 2nd of October we had our first banquet, the drawing for foursomes who came to the banquet and we welcomed new members. If any are interested in becoming a member of the men's club, please come to the course on Monday or Wednesday at 11:00 AM or call those listed below for any necessary information. We will have our second banquet January 24th and the last one March 28th all at Read Hall. All starts at 5:00 PM.

In February we have our club championship. We have four different flight champions and the gross champion.

On Friday starting at 8:00 AM we have a pot game with prizes for the best net player, best net player and partner, closest to the pin on 4 and 8 green and birdies.

The Angry Golfer

A golfer who was known for his bad temper walked into the pro shop one day and plunked down big bucks for a new set of woods. The staff all watched to see what would happen after he used them for the first time - more than half expecting he'd come in and demand his money back.

But the next time he came in, he was all smiles "They're the best clubs I've ever had," he said. "In fact, I've discovered I can throw them at least 40 yards farther than I could my last ones."

Some of the scores for last month:

Bare, Bill 45, 45; Bodor, Marty 40, 37, 41; Boehmer, Mark 43, 41, 37; Bybee, Lin 42, 40, 42, 44, 44, 43; Capellitti, Pat 47; Cole, Harry 39, 43, 39, 39; Gerholdt, Al 41, 49, 44, 47, 45, 48; Knisley, Ron 48; Rife, Paul 40, 46, 47, 48, 45; Tatman, Dale 39, 38, 46, 40, 39, 43; Vincent, Freddie 45, 47; Waterstradt, Larry 35, 37, 35, 40, 32, 37, 35; Wiland, Dick 44, 42, 47, 40, 42; Wood, Scott 40, 44; Zabel, Ray 38, 43, 39, 38, 40, 37; and Zlojutro, Drago 47, 44, 52.

If you have any questions, please call Larry Waterstradt (480-894-1645) president, Dale Tatman (480-981-1645) treasurer or contact Pat (480-985-6591) the golf pro at the Dreamland Pro Shop.

Dreamland Villa
Ladies Golf League

by Kay Hawbaker

Please note that the information in the October issue of the Citizen gave the wrong dates. The first outing of the 2012 fall season is a scramble, best ball with members meeting at 8:00 AM for donuts and coffee on the 8th of November, which is the second Thursday in the month. The first meeting of the season is November 15th at 9:30 AM at Read Hall. Also add to your calendars that the Christmas luncheon will be held on Thursday, December 20th at Read Hall.

Please sign up for both the November lunch at Itsy Bisty diner and the scramble on the sign up sheet at the Pro Shop sometime before Wednesday, November 7th. Hope to see you all at these events starting in November.

If you have any friends visiting or moving to the East Valley, they are welcome to join us in the League. New faces are always welcome.

Outdoors at
Dreamland Villa
Community Club

by Ralph Shirey

The shuffleboard courts are ready for returning players; the bocce ball courts are idly awaiting the return of the winter visitors; and the pickle ball players are back outdoors down at the Read Hall complex!

The pickleball players have been selling water, soda and snacks at the Legends of Country Music shows to raise money for their equipment! With attendance at each show running 200+, we have sold a lot of refreshment! Through the summer we have added two new paddles and two dozen more balls so as to have equipment at both locations! The pickle ball equipment is in the shuffle board room if you want to play at the outdoor courts at the Read Hall complex! Use your kee card to gain entrance!

Come and join us on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays about 8:00 AM to play. If you don't know how to play, we will show you the game, work with you and in no time you will be enjoying the fastest growing game in senior circles! Wear comfortable court shoes and you may need a hat or sun visor! Be sure and bring water as we live in the desert, you know!

Rule of the month; If the momentum of your volley shot takes you into the no-volley area, (kitchen) it is a fault!

Enjoy all of the outdoor and indoor activities in your "Dreamland Villa where retirement dreams come true"!

CLUBS

Computer Club

by Donna Hanson

Now that many of our members will be back in town, we hope to get more classes started at our Room 9. Bob will be there on Tuesday mornings at 9:00, and Stu will be there on Fridays at 9:00 to help others with any questions or problems they may have. Please check out our calendar posted on the door of Room 9 for all activities.

If you come in on Saturday mornings at 9:00, Stu will be there to chair any questions you may have and others may also be there to help solve many problems.

You may join the club if you are a member of Dreamland Villa Community Club. Dues are $15 per person and $20 per year for two people living in the same household. There is never a charge for classes, so you get a real bargain. Perhaps you might want to teach a class, and we would appreciate anyone who has that desire. Whether you are a person who just recently bought a new computer or someone who has owned one for many years, things always seem to change, and by meeting together, we can help each other learn more.

There is a joke about a person who said he joined the club as he had gotten a new laptop and just recently learned how to turn it on. Now he plans to come to a class to learn how to turn it OFF.

Our General Meetings are held once a month on the FIRST WEDNESDAY of each month at 9:00 AM at Farnsworth Hall. At our next meeting on November 7, Dave Whittle will be our speaker. He will report about the coolest new laptops, how to cut your monthly phone bills in half, plus much more. Dave is an author and technology expert who is highly rated in the area. At our last meeting on October 3, Marvin Hundertmark enlightened us about THIRTY YEARS OF WISDOM. He has been teaching seniors for many years and gave us many examples of how to better use our computers.

If you have ink cartridges, we would appreciate your donation of them, as we use the proceeds for various expenses of paper, ink, also door prizes to be given out at future meetings.

You might be interested in becoming a member of our Board of Directors. Election of officers will be in December. Please contact a member of the Computer Club Nominating Committee to let them know you would like to help plan our activities for the following year.

Also, come to our brunch at Golden Corral on the third THURSDAY of each month around 10:30. The food is very good and we would love to meet and chat with you while we munch. Bring your friends, as all are welcome.

And do come to our clubroom, bring your laptop if you have one, and join in the conversations. We are all learning together and we welcome you to participate or listen to our neighbors and friends as they tell us what they know about their computers.

Quilting Club

by Becky Lamson

In October we're started meeting once a week, on every Thursday from 1:00 to 3:00 PM at Read Hall.

Our attendance is rising as the ladies return to or for holding a small treasure, etc.

We welcome your unused quilting fabric and batting. You can contact the Quilt Club President Becky Lamson at (480) 202-7003, and she will arrange a time to pick it up or you may drop it off during our weekly quilt meetings at Read Hall, Thursdays from 1:00-3:00 PM. New or prospective members are always welcome.

Our quilt picture contains two quilts from our 1600 Quilt Pattern Class made by Carol Shaw and Leslie Starks.

Quilters' quote of the month: I've been put on this earth to sew and finish a certain number of quilts. I am so far behind now...I will never die!

Dreamland Villa, bringing projects and ideas for future projects they collected over the summer.

At our November 15th meeting we are scheduled to make a quilted top for a small tin container. They can be used as a gift box

New Photography Club Is Organized

by Glynn Short

The first meeting of the newly formed Photography Club met on October 12 to discuss its purpose and organizational format. Glynn Short led the meeting of 12 interested members.

The group made some preliminary decisions about the club. First: meetings will be held on Monday mornings at 10:00 AM each week in the Computer Club room. The meetings will last 1-2 hours depending on the program. Second: Glynn Short will serve as Chairperson, Alicia Short as Secretary, and Bill Grafton will serve as Treasurer.

Dues for the club were decided at $15 for individuals and $20 for couples. The dues will be on a calendar year basis - January through December. Dues will be used for supplies, potential photography show expenses, to pay potential speakers, etc. Dues are payable at this time and will include all of 2013.

The club format of weekly meetings will be to hold two meetings per month to primarily teaching, learning programs while one meeting day will include a photography field trip, and a fourth meeting will be for show and tell and helpful learning critique type of meeting.

The club would like to hold a Photography Show once a year and will look into holding the first one in the spring of 2013 if Farnsworth Hall has availability.

The club will pursue the possibility of having space on the DVCC website.

The club welcomes people to join at any time and welcomes input on locations, program ideas, speaker suggestions, etc. Any professional photographers in Dreamland Villa are welcome to attend, assist with a program, teach or contribute in any way to help members grow as photographers.

Ceramic Chaos

by Teena Baker

Greetings! As my mother used to say "Time waits for no man". Where in the world has SEPTEMBER & OCTOBER gone? The holidays are upon us already.

September 4th was the day we opened for the new season. We had a good attendance, renewed old friendships, and made new ones. We also had our business meeting with a lot of good ideas and new decisions made. We had eight in attendance for the meeting. We talked about the fact that our expenditure was more than our income and decided that we raise our daily cost by increasing the ticket price to $.75 which increased the session cost to $1.50 for each session instead of $1.00. Cost of paint usage will still be $.15 per color per session. That means if you use four colors before lunch then you put $.60 in the share paint jar before you go to lunch. If you still use the same four colors in the afternoon you will still put another $.60 in the paint jar before you leave for the day. A discussion was tabled as to where we would have our Christmas dinner. Last year we went to Monti's in Tempe, where we had a very good time. We thought about doing that again this year but wanted input from other members, so there is a sheet in the Ceramic room for you to list your favorite restaurants. We will also use this list to do our monthly outings from. So be sure to add your favorites to it.

Ceramic Chaos has a fair amount of finished pieces that were done by some of the teachers and monitors that we have set aside to be sold. The prices of these pieces vary from $1 to $10 so come by the room and see if you can find some early Christmas presents. The room will be open on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from 9:00 AM -12:00 noon and 1:00 PM - 4:00 PM.

Mary Anne Glauner, Teena Baker, Roy Baker and June Heden went to Laughlin, Nevada, for our annual Southern Stars Retreat. This is the first time that June has gone with us. We all had a good time, learned some new things and repeated some old things for the new people who had come for the first time. There were forty ladies and gentlemen from California, Nevada, Arizona, Montana, and New Mexico. Anyone who loves ceramics is able to come if they want. We learned how to make an item look like we're looking through a screen at a garden. We marbled a vase; we also made a clay fish that will be attached by rings to make a chime. We painted an elephant bank to look like Santa. We all did the same pieces, but each piece had different looks.

After I sent in my article I found out that one of our ladies in Ceramics lost her beloved mother. So Ceramic Chaos wants to say that we are so sorry for your loss. Chris's mother's name is Margaret Schnorr. She passed away on Sunday the fifth of August and her service was held on August the ninth. We want Chris to know that all of us from Ceramic Chaos will hold you and your family in our hearts and our prayers.

June Heden

Now it is time to think of the holidays. Halloween is just over, but then there's Thanksgiving and before you know it Christmas is here. While I am spouting off about the holidays let me tell you about some of the holiday ceramic pieces that are in the ceramic room that you might be interested in doing. We have a small Nativity set, as well as a lot of Santas. We have a four piece stackable reindeer set, as well as a couple of Christmas trees. There is a lot of Halloween items, pumpkins, scarecrows, gnarled trees, and more. We have turkeys and cornucopias, haystacks, and more. Just about anything you can think of. Come by and have a look.

WE MADE OUR GOAL! We painted and completed our 200 bowls for the Mesa "Bowls for the Hungry" project. Thanks to each and every one of our ladies and gentlemen that came in and helped. You know who each and every one of you are. Now we have a little breathing room before we launch next year's start. God Bless you all.

I want to take a minute to personally thank Charles Krasselt for doing some carpentry work for us in converting our ticket book holder to a more conveniently divided box as well as making the sturdy dividers for us. I sure waited until the last minute to ask for his help, so I again apologize. THANK YOU, Charlie.

November's luncheon will at Sweet Tomatoes on the 21st as our usual fourth Wednesday will be the day before Thanksgiving. A sign-up sheet will be in the ceramic room. Come join us.

This month I am featuring two of our monitors, JUNE HEDEN and CARMEN MALDOONADO.

My name is June C. Heden. I moved to Mesa, Arizona, from Chicago, Illinois, in 1999. I was married in March of 1956. I have four children, Michael, Daniel, Debra, and David, nine grandchildren and three great grandchildren. I volunteered most of my earlier years, and had a multitude of part-time jobs. I volunteered at hospitals, as a crossing guard, preschool teacher, and worked for Pepsi Cola and Canfields.

What do I like about going to ceramics? I didn't know anyone here. A next door neighbor who was renting, told me about ceramics. I went and have enjoyed it since. I learned a lot, and not only that, have met many new friends. I also love art and colors. Everyone, in one way or another, has been very helpful. Our teachers over the years, who taught new techniques, are very good. I am thankful.

Carmen Maldonado

My name is Carmen Maldonado. I was born in Puerto Rico, USA, raised in the Bronx, New York. I am second of seven siblings and graduated from Williamsburgh High School in Brooklyn, New York. Presenting the HOUSE WITH A HAT

at Farnsworth's Sunland Springs Village

Introducing beautiful, energy-efficient, cost-saving homes from the builder the East Valley has trusted since 1959. Just as a hat protects the body from the effects of heat and cold, the "Farnsworth Hat" protects your home from the effects of hot summer days and cold winter nights; thus reducing your energy bills compared to lesser built homes or older re-sale homes.

The Leader in energy-efficiency.

We are excited that we've partnered with SRP to establish a higher standard in Sunland Springs Village for affordable, energy-efficient housing. Our homes are built under a program called PowerWise, which uses whole-building design to develop high-performance homes at optimal costs. This approach brings together building design, energy conservation and today's energy-efficient technologies to minimize a home's operational costs and make the most of all its elements.

Standard features in all Homes, Townhomes and Golf Condos.

- 14 SEER high efficiency heating and cooling system
- Programmable thermostat
- Automatic fresh air ventilation system
- Radiant barrier protection on underside of attic plywood
- Heat resistant windows with Low E reflective glass and Suncoat Max glass
- Homes are randomly tested by an independent third party to ensure that energy efficiency standards are met:
 - "Blower Test" - ensures air-tight walls with minimal air leakage
 - "Duct Blaster" Test - duct testing that ensures HVAC system is tightly sealed for efficient air distribution
- Roof Overhang gives shading to exterior walls and helps rain water fall away from the house
- 100% CFL bulbs

Meet Your Ceramic Teachers

This month your ceramic teachers will be featured. In the ensuing months articles could be about monitors, class members, or a local ceramic shop that may or may not run a special for us

Bettina (Teena) Baker

I was born in Richmond, Virginia, on June 9, 1943, the fourth child out of 5. I have one brother and three sisters. Due to my mothers health we moved to Phoenix in 1952. I married Roy in 1961, and moved to California where we lived until 1972. We then moved to Colleyville, Texas. When Roy retired in 1999, the house was sold, and we bought a fifth wheel trailer and truck and began traveling until we bought our home here in Dreamland Villa in 2006. We have three daughters and seven grandchildren. I graduated from TCJC in 1983 with an Associate Degree in Art.

In 1972 I started doing ceramics at a little shop in Hurst, Texas. At that time there was a glaze product called "American Beauty" that had beautiful colors. Unfortunately, that little shop didn't last long and closed. Then I found a plaster shop in 1975 that had a small amount of ceramics as well as plaster. It was here that I was first exposed to the "Art" of chalking (Pastels is another term). Over the years I have developed my own system of chalking. Chalking is my specialty. In 1984 I began working with another ceramist and her group until 1999. While with this group I learned the differences between various glazes and under glazes. Since moving back to Arizona in 2006 and joining Ceramic Chaos, I have received both my Mayco and my Duncan Certification. At present I am working toward my Doc Holiday Certification.

In 2006 at the suggestion of the teachers at Ceramic Chaos at Dreamland, I entered one of my chalk pieces at the Phoenix Doll and Ceramic Show at the State Fair Grounds in Phoenix. To my surprise and amazement I was awarded the Best of Show and a "Freddy", the highest award in ceramics for an amateur. Therefore, I can only participate as a professional. It is one of my most prized possessions. I have entered several shows since then and won other ribbons.

Currently I am teaching at Ceramic Chaos at Dreamland Villa two days a week and enjoy the education I get and the fun of working in my retirement. I love doing ceramics, and I love teaching others who have a desire to learn.

Mary Anne Glauner

My husband Gene and I moved to Dreamland Villa from Lake Bluff, Illinois, twenty years ago and have never regretted it. Three of our children still live in Illinois: Barb, married to Jim Shelton and are the parents of our grandson Jimmie; Nick, married to Laurie and have one son, Nicholas; and Dennis, married to Jo-Kristan who have Gracen and Elexis and our newest grandson Joe Dennis as well as a step-son Killian; Cyndi, our oldest lives here in Mesa and is a Financial Analyst and CPA employed with a construction firm in Mesa. Gene and I will be married 53 years this year. We both have had our share of medical problems and, hopefully, we are finished with hospitals and surgeries. Some day I hope to get back to my first love, golf. When we first moved here I golfed every morning at 5:15 with my three friends at Dreamland Golf Club. I couldn't think of a better way to start my day. One of the problems is my three friends have all passed away. Since moving to Dreamland Villa, we have been very involved with the Villa. For four years I was on the Board of Directors as President my last year. Gene and I were Distribution Chairpersons for the Citizen for four years as well as being a carrier. The first Activity Day was organized and planned under my direction. It was a great success, and there is a rumor there will be another after the first of the year. Lastly, I having been writing the "In and Around the Villa" column in the Citizen for more years than I can remember. Since moving here I have been a booster of the value of living in DVCC. There is not a better place to live in all of Arizona as far as I am concerned. The ambience, the people, and the activities available to everyone are more than any other community like ours. Lastly, Cyndi literally dragged me into ceramics and said, "My mother has nothing to do, teach her how to do ceramics", that was in 1993 and I've been doing ceramics ever since. Of course, she has most of the pieces I do, so there was a reason behind her intentions.

The editor of the Citizen would like to apologize to Teena Baker for the Ceramic Chaos article being omitted in last month's paper. It was unintentional, just simply overlooked.

of the original grant of the Virginia Company of Plymouth), the Pilgrims decided to establish their colony within the friendly territory.

That initial harsh Massachusetts winter killed approximately one-half of the original 102 colonists. In the following spring of 1621, the Indians, led by two braves named Samoset (of the Wampanoag Tribe) and Squanto (of the Patuxet Tribe), taught the survivors how to plant corn (called "maize" by the natives) and how to catch alewives (a variety of the herring family) in order that the fish might be used as a fertilizer to growing pumpkins, beans, and other crops. Samoset and Squanto also instructed the Pilgrims in the arts of hunting and angling. By the summer, despite poor crops of peas, wheat, and barley, a good corn yield was expected and the pumpkin crop was bountiful. In early autumn, for having survived, Governor William Bradford arranged for a harvest festival. Four men were sent "fowling" after ducks and geese. Turkey may or may not have been a part of the forthcoming meal since the term "turkey" was used by the Pilgrims to mean any type of wild fowl.

The festival lasted three days. Massasoit, local sachem or chief of the Wampanoag, together with 90 Indians from the various Eastern Woodlands Tribes, participated in the ceremony. There can be little doubt that the majority of the feast was most likely furnished by the indigenous population. It is certain that they provided venison. The remainder of the meat, eaten outdoors around large tables, also probably included fish, berries, boiled pumpkin, watercress, leeks, lobster, dried fruit, clams, wild plums, and cornbread. The celebration of this first New England Thanksgiving is believed to have taken place sometime between September 21 and November 9.

The event, however, was a one-time celebration. It was not repeated the following year, nor was it intended to be an annual festival. It was not until 55 years later that another Thanksgiving Day was officially proclaimed when the Governing Council of Charlestown, Massachusetts convened on June 30, 1676, to weigh how to best express thanks for the good fortune that had secured the establishment of their community. By unanimous vote Edward Rawson, the Clerk of the Council, was instructed to announce June 29 as a Day of Thanksgiving. Yet again, this proved to be only a one-time event. In a similar fashion, the Day of Thanksgiving proclaimed in October of 1777 was also not intended to be a perpetual annual observance. Although it marked the first time that all 13 colonies were to join in such a celebration, it was equally a commemoration of the patriotic victory over the British at Saratoga. Nevertheless, over time, the notion of a Thanksgiving Day began to spread to other New England colonies.

In 1789 President George Washington issued a general proclamation which named November 25 as a Day of National Thanksgiving. Many were opposed to the idea. There was an air of discord among the Colonies and a feeling that the hardships of a handful of Pilgrims hardly warranted a national holiday. In that same year the Protestant Episcopal Church announced that the first Thursday in November would be a standard annual day for giving thanks. Yet, for many years the United States had no regular national Thanksgiving Day, although some states independently observed a yearly Thanksgiving holiday. By 1830 New York had an official state Thanksgiving Day and other northern states quickly followed suit. In 1855 Virginia became the America's first southern state to adopt the custom.

It was largely due to the efforts of one Sarah Josepha Hale (1788-1879) that America eventually recognized, on a united national level, the feast known as Thanksgiving Day. Editor of Boston Ladies' Magazine and later contributing to Godey's Lady's Book, Hale dedicated 40 years of her life to a campaign which promoted the establishment of a National Day of Thanksgiving. Hale is credited with persuading Abraham Lincoln to make Thanksgiving a national holiday in the United States. In 1863 President Lincoln decreed that the holiday was to be observed on the last Thursday of every November. Hale, a prolific writer, wrote the famous children's poem, Mary Had a Little Lamb.

For the 75 years, which followed, each President in office formally proclaimed that Thanksgiving Day should be celebrated on that last Thursday, but in 1939 President Franklin D. Roosevelt set it for one week earlier. The President's reason for this change was that he wanted to help businesses by lengthening the shopping period prior to Christmas. Public uproar against this decision caused the celebration of Thanksgiving to be moved back to its original date two years later. In 1941 it was finally deemed an observation of Thanksgiving Day and that it would be a legal federal holiday.

The Summit at Sunland Springs

A New Memory Care Community in Sunland Springs Village

for residents that promotes maximum independence while maintaining their dignity, privacy and respect.

This community is designed to support those with physical limitations and memory loss. Our private rooms and common areas are welcoming, easy to navigate, and intended to comfort residents throughout all stages of their condition. Our life engagement philosophy and our social activity program include activities designed to enhance our residents' self-esteem. Programs will be developed daily that will cater to each residents levels and abilities to maximize resident satisfaction.

The Summit at Sunland Springs is located a short distance from physicians' offices, Mountain Vista Medical Center, and other medical support services, as well as retail stores and shopping centers.

Recognizing the importance that our residents should receive the best level of care available, Milestone Retirement Communities was selected to manage and operate The Summit at Sunland Springs. Milestone is proud to be a part of the tradition of excellence that has been handed down through four generations of the Farnsworth/Ahlstrom family. Milestone currently manages 16 communities totaling 1317 resident units, plus an adult day care with average daily attendance of over 40 seniors. Milestone's management team has over 90 years combined experience in the retirement industry. Their philosophy and quality customer service aligns perfectly with the philosophy of excellence of The Ahlstrom family. Milestone Retirement Communities is excited to be a part of The Summit at Sunland Springs.

In 1958, Ross Farnsworth and his father Joe began developing communities that were specifically designed to meet the needs of active adults. Since then, Farnsworth Development has built thousands of homes in the east valley and earned a reputation for quality construction and outstanding customer service.

In 1980, son-in-law Craig Ahlstrom joined the family business beginning the third generation of the Farnsworth legacy. In 2008, Craig Ahlstrom Jr. joined the company, representing the fourth generation to become involved in senior housing, thus continuing the tradition of excellence that has been handed down through the years.

In 2011, a new company was formed by the Ahlstroms which would take the great reputation of the past, add to it new ideas for the future, and offer new housing types which will assist those who need higher levels of care as they age -- thus the idea for The Summit was born.

The Summit at Sunland Springs represents decades of experience and hard work, and it will be a new chapter of senior housing that will enhance the lives of many seniors needing the extra care and concern that they so richly deserve.

The Summit at Sunland Springs is a community for individuals with Alzheimer's disease and other forms of dementia and memory loss. The Summit at Sunland Springs is a purposefully designed environment was born from a father's promise to his hearing impaired daughter. With this promise, Sam Thomasson, an accomplished engineer, embarked on a remarkable journey that became Zounds Hearing. Witnessing first-hand Kate's frustration with her traditional hearing aids - which affected her speech, and ability to hear in a noisy environment - Sam set out to create a hearing aid that would solve these problems.

The world's most technologically advanced hearing aid

#1 HEARING AID COMPLAINT:
"I can't hear in a noisy environment."
(95% dissatisfied with traditional aids).

Zounds technology can tell the difference between human sounds and other sounds like wind noise, or road noise, and create a cone of listening in noisy conditions. This allows Zounds Aids to get rid of up to 90% of the unwanted noise, while enhancing voice.

#1: Zounds Solved It!!

#2 HEARING AID COMPLAINT:
"I have to replace batteries all the time."
(82% dissatisfied with traditional aids).

Most hearing aids require the battery changed every 4-6 days. With Zounds you will never have to buy batteries again. Zounds designed a custom rechargeable battery that lasts all day. Simply drop the hearing aid in the charging station before bed and when you wake up it is all ready to go.

#2: Zounds Solved It!!

#3 HEARING AID COMPLAINT:
"My hearing aids cost too much."
(84% dissatisfied with traditional aids).

The problem with the hearing aid industry is that there are too many middlemen - each marking up the product. Zounds solved this by taking the product direct to the customer through company-owned stores and franchisees. No other manufacturer directly operates stores like Zounds.
